LOGGING INTO READING EGGS

When logging on the both Mathletics and reading eggs there is a problem with the websites and Windows 8. You will need to follow the instructions below.

When you log into Mathletics on your tablet this is the page you get. To be able to log in you need to click on the spanner symbol.

Then click on View on the desktop.

You will then need to re type the Mathletics website in again.
LOGGING INTO READING EGGS

Logging into Reading Eggs, you may get the above message appear. If so please click on the open and it will log you in as normal.

If the message doesn’t appear then you will need to follow the same process as Mathletics.

Then click on View on the desktop

You will then need to re type the Reading Eggs website in again.
